

Assignment 3

For this assignment you will review the ERD and code for the EPIC website and review the current database. The ERD and code files are in the helper section of D2L. You will document the flaws in the database design and create an updated database schema for the EPIC website. You will need to create the database on your istwebclass server. A SQL dump for the database is also in the helpers section of D2L. For the submission, you will create a document describing the flaws, how you corrected them and also a screenshot of your completed ERD. You can go to designer on the istwebclass server and take a screenshot of the ERD there.
